

VIKING WINS GASLINE HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP BY TRIMMING HOLDEN IN FINAL GAME OF SERIES

Uncorking the fastest brand of hockey seen at the local ice palace this season, the Viking hockey squad told the world that they could play under a handicap when they outskated and outplayed the Holden team in the sixth game of the playoff for the Gasline hockey league championship. The story in cold facts and without frills, is that the Viking team, led by the diminutive Dorsey, York, tied up the series, three all, by trouncing and trimming the hopefuls from Holden by the same score to 1-1.

After Holden scored in the first period, Viking didn't let up for one minute until they had slammed the five precious pellets in the Holden hemlock. The gents who boosted their scoring average in this fray were York, Summer and Jack McCreary.

Win Final
But the big moment came on Tuesday night of this week at Holden, when, accompanied by 23 cars loaded with over 125 fans and fanettes, they shut out the Holden heroes to the tune of 2 to 0 to win the series, and thereby annex the title and the trophies of the Gasline hockey league.

With snow whipping across the ice, and a sharp wind biting the faces of the 500 fans who were packed in the every available space around the rink fence, the teams battled hard for the coveted honors. After five minutes in the first period, Dorsey, York and Summer worked their way right up to the Holden goal and with some clever short passing, Summer leisurely caught the goalie off his guard, and in went the first corner.

The teams battled on even terms during the remainder of the first frame and the second, but Summer sent the hopes of his home-town supporters soaring with visions of taking the cup home when he tore down the south side of the rink in a blue rush and scored from the blue line, the speed of the puck almost leaving the goal net and all, from its moorings, the net-minder had to extricate the pellet from the net just like a fisherman in Nova Scotia.

This practically cinched the title, but there was plenty of action until the final goal, but Holden could not get one pass the other way, and the pushed pucks away with reckless abandon. The win was well earned, and the local team has received the plaudits and congratulations of the community for honors so justly earned.

The Gasline league, composed of teams from Irma, Viking, Holden and Tofield, have dished up a good brand of hockey the past season, Irma was the winter, but showed plenty of pep and action against odds. They will be better next year. Holden, Viking and Tofield ran neck and neck all winter and Tofield lost out in the playdowns by only a couple of points.

Lance Umphries of Ryley, refereed during the seven games of the play-off and gave general satisfaction. He had the games well in hand at all times and much credit is coming to him for the high class of hockey seen during the season.

Viking Team—Goal, Dean; defence, J. McCreary, J. Gallagher; forwards, York, Dorsey, Summer, E. McCreary, R. McLaren, K. Hilliker. Manager, Harland Hilliker.

Holden Team—Goal, McLinty; defence, Hopkins, McPherson; forwards, Young, A. Black, M. Kjosness, H. Manne, D. Allan, McEae, Melsaen. Manager, Geo. Shienan.

5,000 Facts About Canada Reveals Interesting Data

The thirtieth annual issue of "5,000 Facts About Canada" marks a milestone in its history, a remarkable record for one publication and a credit to its originator and compiler, Frank Yeich, who has long been well known for his literary and platform work, especially in relation to Canada. This year's record has become a necessity and has achieved a wide circulation in this and other countries as a succinct tabulation of our national life and of our country under fifty different heads, from "Agriculture" to "Yukon." No one can understand the story of the Dominion without this handy reference book, let alone a story that is a promising one, notwithstanding any lowering of trade and industry. The book has realized I knew so little about my country until I read it," said a prominent leader. Copies may be had from leading dealers; or for thirty-five cents a copy, or three copies for a dollar, from the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., 488, Huron Street, Toronto.

Alta's Oil and Gas Yield Valued at $2,654,533.50

Alberta's production of petroleum for 1932 totalled 971,622 barrels valued at $2,654,533.50, according to a report just issued by Hon. R. G. Reid, Minister of Lands and Mines. The figure shows a decline in production from 1931, for the total was valued at $2,654,533.50. The total production of natural gas in the province was 16,508,383 thousand cubic feet, valued at $669,343.22 on the basis of a price of four cents per thousand feet at the well-head. The production during 1931 was 18,327,139 thousand cubic feet, valued at $733,247.60. Of the total oil production, 854,116 barrels were naphtha, 21,694 were light crude from Turner Valley, 34,877 barrels were light crude from the Redoubt field, and of 113 wells now operating in the province.

Smith, Reishus, Elliott Favored by Ratepayers M. D. of Lakeview

The annual election in the Municipal District of Lakeview was held on Saturday last, February 25, and created plenty of excitement for the electors, keen interest being manifest in divisions one, two and three. The voters took place for councillors for the next two years.

Returning Officer A. Reishus reports a very good turnout of the electorate, the weather man being on his best behavior.

In division one, J. L. Smith, Geo. Theriot and Chas. Turnbull sought honors. It is conceded J. L. Smith is the choice. He has served in a like capacity before (two years ago). E. Moore, retiring councillor, declined to seek re-election.

Division two was contested by Jack Reishus and Nels Haffco. The former sought re-election and was returned the victor.

Division three had to choose from E. Elliott and H. N. Stearns. Mr. Elliott has evidently served as councillor to the satisfaction of most of the ratepayers in his sector, as they returned him for another 2-year term.

of healthy criticism. It appears that with all the money spent the dairy pool alone shows signs of failure. It is well to recall the words of Mr. Sapir when he was here to assist in the organization of the wheat pool that governments and pools must be kept apart. This was the advice of a man who has made a life study of organizing co-operatives.

There is an old saying that while Rome burned Rome fiddled. The general impression seems to be growing among the parliamentarians that while the government is fiddling the people are losing their homes through the lack of initiative on the part of the government to submit a solution to the many problems that face the people.

Our Creed

Keep us O God, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word and deed. Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking. May we put away pretence and meet each other face to face without self pity and without prejudices. May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous. Let us take time for things; make us to grow calm, serene and gentle. Teach us to be into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid. Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are one. And may we strive to touch and heal the great common wounds of our heart of us all. And O Lord God, let us not forget to be kind.

Meeting March 16, 1933

If you can't be a pine on the top of a hill,
Be a scrub in the valley; but
The best little scrub by the side of the hill;
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.

If you can't be a highway, then just be a trail,
If you can't be a sun, be a star.
For it isn't by size that you win or you fail;
Be the best whatever you are.

My neighbor has so many things. While I have almost none at all. Rugs, chairs and tables fit for kings. She has made them all. Perhaps that's why she never sings. And never hears the thrushes call. My neighbor has so many things. She has no happiness at all.

Sweetly through the evening twilight, Shrouded softly, veiled in mist. Comes the death of perfumed orchards, And the greening shadows kissed.

Wafted softly to my window, Comes the fragrance of the trees. Borne to me, a scented message, On the wings of evening's breeze.

Through the tender mist of blossoms, Pink and white on every hand, Come the voices of the evening, And I drift to Slumberland.

Hostess—Mrs. Kathryn Johnson.
Opening Song—"My Old Kentucky Home."
Roll call—Bible verse. Creed by memory. Mrs. H. Taylor. Routine business. Bulletin—Mrs. K. Johnson. Third instalment of the book, "A Lantern in Her Hand," Mrs. L. Gray. Address by Mrs. G. Gray. Current events. Mrs. Allen. Oral questions. Prayer, Mrs. Caesar. Closing song, "Softly and Tenderly."

"The facial features plainly indicate character and disposition," said the knowing one. In selecting your wife, were you governed by her chin?" he asked.

"No," replied the timid soul, "but I have been ever since we were married."

Why did you hit your wife with a chair?
Because I couldn't lift the table.

MacTig—I have nothing but practice for the new minister of our church.
O'Malley—So I notice when the plate was passed around.

"You play bridge a good deal, don't you?"
"Yes, and if I got a good deal often I'd play a good deal better too!"

The Way Out.

The whole world is looking for a way out of the terribly complicated financial and economic mess into which it has been plunged as a direct result of the Great War. Whatever may be the contributory causes to the intensity and widespread character of the present depression, the main root cause of the depression was the war and the terms stipulated in the peace treaties. This is now universally recognized. No one seeks to deny it unless they have some particular end to serve by attributing the world's present troubles to something else.

One of the results of the Great War, and the treaties by which it was ended, has been the development of an intensely narrow nationalism, which, in turn, has led to the adoption of those policies which today are strangling the trade of the world and causing all nations to seek ways and means of making themselves self-contained economic units. It is this which has caused the break-down of monetary systems and adoption of uneconomic policies by which all nations are endeavoring to produce both primary and manufactured products which are not natural to their particular countries. It is one of the outcomes of the war that every nation is desirous of promoting exports while at the same time shutting out imports, an undertaking which even the dullest schoolboy understands to be impossible.

More and more, thinking men and women are coming to realize that there are only two ways whereby the world can be brought out of the impasse in which it now finds itself. One is through the instrumentality of another great war, the other is by the nations of the world getting together in conference to undo as far as may be possible the blunders made following the last war and to remedy the mistakes which have been, and still are, persisted in by practically all nations.

There may be some human creatures who would welcome the first way out, but they are few and far between. Another war would create a huge demand for products and commodities of all kinds, with a consequent enormous increase in prices, because it must be admitted that war, more than any other agency, creates a large demand for almost everything, except pure luxuries. But apart from the horrors of war, the final result would be, as it always has been throughout history, the development of another depression surpassing in its intensity and duration even the one through which we are now passing. War would be no cure for our financial and economic ills; it would merely temporarily raise the depression, only to plunge us back into it in more intensified form.

God forbid there should be another war, but there will be unless the nations of the world come to their senses, get together in conference, abandon their narrow nationalisms, and work together in unison for the common good of all, instead of at cross purposes, each seeking to advance itself at the expense of the others.

Yet there are people today so utterly blind or selfish that they go about decrying every effort that is put forth to bring the nations into conference and, let us hope, ultimate agreement and co-operation. These people take the position that conferences are useless; they scoff at them; they predict failure for each and every one of them in advance of their meeting. But if the world's salvation is not to be found through the medium of conferences, then its final destruction will be brought about by war, because inevitably, financial and economic warfare, in which the nations are now engaged, will, unless stopped, end in physical war.

These people point to the many conferences already held, and they ask: "What good has come out of them?" They say the Lausanne Conference was a failure, yet at that conference the nations of Europe agreed to cut German reparations down from many billions of dollars to a few hundreds of millions. True, that decision is dependent upon further action yet to be taken, but it was a long step forward toward a solution of the war reparations and war debts problem. The same people say the Ottawa Economic Conference was a failure. Well, that depends upon a person's viewpoint. Some very able statesmen and publicists in many countries regard it as a successful beginning to other policies to follow, while others, it is true, consider that mistakes were made in that it did not accomplish much more in the direction of freeing trade from the artificial restrictions now imposed upon it.

Another world conference is to be held this year, called specifically to deal with world financial and economic problems. All the principal nations of the world will be represented. But already these prophets of despair are going about telling people that it will prove a failure. If it is, it will be time enough to say so after the event, but no good, only harm is done by condemning it in advance. People who adopt such an attitude are not patriots nor friends of their fellow men, but trouble-making busybodies having some ulterior and selfish purpose to serve.

No conference will accomplish all that everybody expects of it or desires it should accomplish. Any conference, if it is to achieve anything, must proceed along the path of compromise. There must be give and take all round. A spirit of co-operation rather than antagonism must be in evidence. Even the smallest thing accomplished is so much gain, and every such gain opens the only way for further gains, just as every loss leads to other and greater losses.

Those who decry and condemn world conferences in advance are, in fact, rejecting the world's only alternative to war as a means of settling differences between nations. There are more conferences now than ever before in the world's history. Why? Because the real and far-seeing leaders of world thought are striving as never before to prevent war. In past ages war resulted because the nations did not try to get together and settle their differences and compose their rival interests. And if they do not do so now, war will be the only alternative, the inevitable result.

Those who go about decrying, criticizing, and condemning such conferences in advance are nothing more nor less than war-mongers, advocates of international bloodshed and revolution, apostles of the doctrine of physical force, rather than orderly methods of compromise and evolution, slow though it may sometimes be, whereby reform is achieved and mankind moves forward to better things.

Launching the "Normandie"

When the "Normandie," the world's largest liner, was launched at St. Nazaire, France, recently, a ton of soap, two and one-half tons of lard and 43 tons of tallow were needed to grease the ways. Six hundred men assisted in the launching. The President of France attended, and his wife, Mme. Lebrun, broke the bottle of champagne over the bow.

After a trial had been in progress for three hours a jurymen in London courts told Justice Ashton that he was very deaf and had not heard a word. After a consultation with the attorneys the Judge continued the hearing with a jury of eleven. "I am sorry to go because I liked the job," said the jurymen as he left the box.

Has Seen Canada Grow

Montreal Woman Emigrated From England 87 Years Ago

Five years before Queen Victoria became Queen of England, Sarah Davey was born in London, England. Eighty-seven years ago—the year Abraham Lincoln was assassinated, she came to Canada where she has remained ever since.

Mrs. Ryder, as she now is, celebrated her 100th birthday, at her home in Montreal. Erect and prim, the sunlight streaming of her white hair—hair that needs no lace cap to hide the wear of 87 years—Mrs. Ryder told of the Canada of 1865.

"I expected Canada would be very bushy," she said, "and it was! We lived in Beriville for nearly 50 years and all my children were born there. Those were good days. In winter we had long sleigh drives and in summer we went over the country roads where many more country, real country, in our horse-driven buggy. There try roads then. . . . Beriville and the surrounding country is very different now. And the winters were ever so much colder."

Mrs. Ryder doesn't worry about her meals. "She" eats three good meals a day," her daughter said, "and has a glass of ale every night before she goes to bed."

The old lady is not out of sympathy with the present generation. "I like to see the girls enjoying themselves," she said, "but I don't think mothers should allow them to stay out all hours of the night as if they weren't interested in them."

Plan Is Developing

Sea-Air Service Would Make Base At Galway, Ireland, Necessary

A combined sea and air passenger service, that would reduce the travelling time between New York and London to three and a half days, has attracted the interest of influential New York bankers.

The project calls for establishment of a large base at Galway, on the west coast of Ireland, for aeroplanes operating in conjunction with fast trans-Atlantic liners and for a modern, well-equipped harbor to accommodate the liners themselves.

C. H. Glendening, president of the Irish Trans-Atlantic Corporation, Ltd., which is developing the scheme, is to confer with New York bankers, who have indicated their willingness to back the project. Dutch and Canadian interests, it is learned, also are watching the development closely.

Galway is ideally situated for the plan. A full day or more could be saved in the New York-London route now if the fast boats put in there and the passengers made the rest of the trip by air.

The scheme already is so far advanced that it has drawn the interest of the Canadian, British, and Dutch governments, which see in it immense commercial and other possibilities.

Ceylon Wants Throne Back

Has Been At Windsor Castle For Over Hundred Years

A request that the ancient throne of the Kandyan kings, which has been at Windsor Castle for more than 100 years, should be returned to Ceylon, its traditional home, is being made by the Ceylon state council to the secretary of state for the colonies.

The throne was used by British sovereigns at the investiture of knights of the Garter until 1924, when it was removed by the King's command, from the throne room to the grand vestibule because it was considered out of keeping with the decorative scheme.

The throne, which is an imposing structure of silver gilt, supporting dragons of cut crystal with amethyst eyes, is ornamented with floral decorations. The plating is set with gems.

Win Progress Prize

Mennonite Farmers Given Second Award In C.N.R. Competition

The community of Hanover, centering on the town of Steinbach, east of Winnipeg, was awarded first prize in the Canadian National Railways community progress competitions for communities of European origin in Manitoba, according to information received from Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture, for the company. This is the third year's operation of these competitions.

The first prize community in Manitoba consists of six school districts, centering on the town of Steinbach. This is a Mennonite settlement, started more than 50 years ago. In the first few years of settlement they had no capital for equipment, but gradually established themselves as farmers through their own initiative and endeavor. Today this community is one of the finest from an agricultural standpoint in Manitoba.

The board of judges, composed of Principal John Mackay, Manitoba College; Mrs. David Watt, Birtle, and Brother Joseph Pink, principal of Provencher school, awarded second place to Vita, a Ukrainian community in southeastern Manitoba, and third place to Sifton, which comprises the north half of the Dauphin municipality, a Ukrainian community north of the town of Dauphin.

History As Understood

Small Wonder Answer Of One Student Started Teacher

The person who told this story really it actually happened. The young students were answering an oral quiz on history. The teacher asked, "Who was Anne Boleyn?" Answered a bright-eyed lad, "A flat iron." He had to repeat his answer several times before the startled teacher understood. Then she demanded his reason for making such a peculiar statement. "It says so in the book," he insisted, and leafed through the history until he struck the paragraph that proved his point. "Here you are," he said, and triumphantly displayed the following: "Henry VIII. pressed his suit with Anne Boleyn."

A Privileged Character

Dog's Name Appears In Colorado Fraternity House Directory

Hedgehog Peter is listed in the University of Colorado student directory. His address is the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house.

Hedgehog Peter is a police dog and is the fraternity mascot. When the Sig Alpha officers were preparing their pledge list for the school directory the name of Hedgehog Peter was slipped into the list and as a result Hedgehog gets his mail at the Sig Alpha house.

"He's the most obedient pledge we have," said Gilbert Perkins, president of the fraternity.

Delicacy From China

Ten-Year-Old Egg Exhibited At "Chinese Evening" In Boston

An exhibition of curios including a ten-year-old egg which was brought from China by Mrs. H. W. Dunning of Brooklyn, featured the "Chinese evening," conducted in Jacob Sleeper Hall by the Boston University Women's Graduates Club.

The egg was preserved according to Chinese custom in quicklime, which makes it very hard-boiled. Eggs of this sort are considered a delicacy in China, according to Mrs. Dunning.

Entirely Trustworthy

"I'm giving yer a week's notice," said the maid. "Why, Jane," replied the mistress, "you have only been here a fortnight, and I'm quite pleased with you; whatever do you want to leave for?" "Well, you see," said Jane, "I find as 'ow you don't trust me."

"Why, my dear girl," replied the lady, "I gave you the keys of the master's desk, the safe and my jewelry case."

"Yes," snapped Jane, "but they don't fit."

French critics regard Edgar Allen Poe as the father of the short story.

Extraordinary Discovery

Ordinary Magnet Said To Extract Cells From Body

Discovery that an ordinary magnet can be used to obtain from the organs where they live the immensely important cells believed to be responsible for the immunity of animals to disease, is announced by two workers of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, at New York.

Harmless particles of highly-magnetic iron are introduced into the body in such a manner that the prized cells pick up the metal and gravitate like lodestones to the magnet. It has been impossible heretofore to separate them from the obscuring masses of millions of other body cells. Unharmful by their iron mass, they are raised "in vitro," that is, they continue to live and grow in glass dishes. There they are now under observation at the institute for learning more about their functions.

A New Motor Fuel

Substitute For Gasoline Developed In Ireland Proving Success

The new crescent oil substitute for gasoline which was discovered and developed by the municipal gas department of Belfast, Ireland, is proving a success, and is gaining recognition in other parts of the world. For the last 15 months, 12 Belfast municipal buses on different routes have used the new fuel with great success according to reports. More of these vehicles are to be converted to use of the fuel at once, and a five-year-plan for changing all buses has been outlined. J. D. Smith, the gas works manager, has, in response to inquiries sent the formula to all parts of the world.

Professor Sees New Age

Says People Now Willing To Sacrifice For Worthy Ends

The end of the present age of cynicism, which he sees as an aftermath of the world war, is envisioned by Dr. Jesse Holmes, professor of philosophy at Swarthmore College, Philadelphia. "We have passed through three ages," he said. "The age of softness was followed by the age of sentimentality. Since the war cynicism has been the ruling spirit. Now I believe we are entering upon an age of genuine faith and willingness to sacrifice for great and worthy ends."

Sound Money

Addressing the Toronto Board of Trade one day last week, Premier R. B. Bennett, according to press reports, made clear the position of this country. His clarity was not evident to all readers but his remarks do indicate that he still retains most of his well known assurance. Canada will maintain her "sound money" position; Canada will not inflate her currency; Canada will maintain her proud position in the eyes of the world and meet her obligations in the terms of the contract—these were a few of the premier's statements. Another significant and revealing remark was his demand for frank recognition of the fact that the Dominion was part of the North American continent. At the last session of the House Mr. Bennett sternly rebuked those who were advocating the placing of the Canadian dollar on a parity with sterling. He pointed out that they were in fact suggesting that the Dominion hand over to Whitehall the power to determine the value of our dollar which he inferred would be an utterly indelible abrogation of our most cherished rights. Yet Mr. Bennett's stand on "sound money" and his statement that Canada is part of the North American continent, if it is to make sense at all, can only mean one thing, it can only mean that our dollar must be maintained as nearly as possible on a par with the United States dollar, which, in turn, means precisely that the value of our money is being and will continue to be dictated to us from Wall Street.

"Canada will maintain her proud position," said the premier. What is that position? A couple of days after his Toronto address Mr. Bennett said to a delegation of railway men that no language would be too extravagant to describe the seriousness of Canada's railway position. "If these enterprises stop altogether there will be no work at all," he added. This does not indicate a particularly proud position. An examination of the condition of agriculture, of the pulp and paper industry, of the lumber industry, of mining—all the basic industries of the country—would not disclose anything to be particularly proud of.

In his Toronto speech Mr. Bennett asserted that only two reasons existed for inflation—lack of currency or insolvency. There is no lack of currency, he proceeded, and unless abnormal conditions obtained and unless something unforeseen happened "the country cannot dare to depart from 'sound money.' Are not conditions abnormal and have not unforeseen things been consistently happening for the last four years? Insolvency is a relative term. Whether Canada is solvent at the present moment is certainly a debatable point.

Inflation at best is only a temporary palliative but under capable direction our currency, as Mr. McKenna points out, might be so managed as to help materially to bring the country out of the present mess.

It might not be out of place to ask whether the ability of New Zealand to jump all barriers and be sold in Canada has not some connection with the relative exchange position of New Zealand and Canadian currencies? The "unforeseen" and the "abnormal" may yet force the government to reconsider its position—Western Producer.

VALLEY U.F.W.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Valley U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Pendleton on February 25 with a fairly good attendance. The meeting was opened with singing and the Club Women's Creed, after which many items of business were disposed of. The quilt made by the Local some time ago is to be drawn for at a white drive to be held in Valley School on March 4. A splendid report was given by the delegate and a hearty vote of thanks was extended her. The Local gift donated by Mrs. Tweedy was drawn for and won by Miss Jenny James.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James on March 9th.

Sister's Bear: "You didn't expect to see me here to-night, all you?"

Sister's Little Brother: Naw, Sis didn't put your picture on the piano till after you rang the doorbell."

"It is the duty of every one to make at least one person happy during the week," said a Sister's teacher.

"Have you done so, Freddy?"

"Yes," said Freddy promptly.

"That's right. What did you do?"

"I went to see my aunt; and she was happy when I went home."

Main Street

The regular meeting of the Irma Ladies' Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Tripp on Thursday March 9, and all the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

REBEKAH'S HOLD VERY SUCCESSFUL MASQUERADE

The masquerade dance put on by the Rebekah's in Kiefer's hall on Friday evening, March 24, was a decided success. The hall was well filled and the music supplied by Coulman's orchestra was good. A large number came in costumes of various designs and colors, making it rather difficult for the judges to decide who were entitled to the prizes.

The final decisions were as follows: Comic couple, Clifford and Maude Smallwood. Comic queen, Pryce Jones, Comic lady, Mrs. Pryce Jones. Best dressed couple, Mary and Raymond Stinson. Best dressed lady, Helen Knudsen. Best dressed gent, Jack Peterson. Quite a number of others who were not named attended the dance which was enjoyed immensely by all.

The lunch of sandwiches and coffee was supplied, after which dancing was resumed until about 2.30 a.m.

STRAWBERRY PLAINS

The Strawberry Plains Literary Society put over another of their successful programs. The house was full to capacity. The program was opened by songs and recitations by the local talent. A short play, "The Wife," was a success. Mr. Johnston made a good nigger wench. The young men could take home a few pointers for selecting a wife. Last but not least was a long play, "Marrying Off Father," put on by Miss Johnston and company, from Silver Lane. The play was well received by audience.

After supper the floor was cleared for a hard-time dance. The best women's costume was worn by Mrs. Geo. Rubenok, and the gentlemen's by Chas. Jackson. Both were made from sack, and there was evidence that both winners spent much time in the creation of their costumes. The music was supplied by local musicians.

AVONGLIN NOTES

Avonlin Local are very sorry to hear of the untimely death of Miss Francis Bateman who had done so much to further the work of this organization throughout the province.

Mrs. Wm. Prior was the lucky winner of the ladies' first prize at Albert school card party on February 24.

Ronald—And is $10.00 all you are offering for the return of your wife? Why, no one will bring her back for that small amount.

Edward—Don't I know it!

Soup

"A Few Noodles by Tun."

Pa, what is a philosopher?
A man with a good liver, heart, stomach and bank account.

Why don't you and Bilkins go into partnership?
I was engaged to my wife before I was. You don't suppose I would take a smarter man than I am for a partner, do you?

—Mrs.—I am getting stouter all the time.

—Mr.—Yes, when I got married I little realized that I was getting a wife on the installment plan.

"We all want you to come to our party tonight, Mary."

"Can't Sambo, I've got a case of diabetes."

"Come along anyways, Mandy, and bring it with you. Those niggers will drink most anything."

Grandma: "Doesn't that little boy swear terribly?"

Grandson: "Yes'm, he sure does. He doesn't put no expression in it at all."

"Oh, I do wish these recipes would be more definite," complained the June bride. "Here's one telling how to use up old bread, but it doesn't tell how old the bread must be."

"How did you happen to take that poison? Didn't you read the sign on the bottle? It said 'Poison.'"

"Yassah, but Ah didn't believe it."

"Cause right underneath it was a sign which said, 'Lye.'"

"Yassah," said old Link, "business very good. Done bought a pig for ten dollars, traded pig for a barrel, barrel for a calf, calf for a bicycle, and sold de bicycle for ten dollars."

"But yo' don't make nothin', Link."

"Sho' nough, but look at de business Ah been doin'."

"How would this cloth do for your new dress?"

"It wouldn't do at all. Nobody's wearing that."

"Well, here's something else. How's this?"

"Oh, that wouldn't do either. Everybody's wearing that."

Driller: "Can you use the word 'satiate' in a sentence?"

To-dayneck: "I took Mary to lunch to-day and fill say-satiate."

RADIOGRAMS

We always get a sweeter laugh out of unconscious humor. Dick Rice of the Journal pulled one of those funny ones last Friday morning. It was the grain price announcement at 9.15 and he stated, "Wheat down one-half cent," at the same time turning on the record, "Smile, Darn You, Smile."

Moving pictures present so many immoral features that a visitor from the grain price announcement at 9.15 and he stated, "Wheat down one-half cent," at the same time turning on the record, "Smile, Darn You, Smile."

There is no such criticism applicable to it. This high standard is worthy of special mention and appreciation.

KSL: The honeymoon was over and Mandy was urging her sluggish Sambo to step out and earn a little so as to replenish the larder. One of her arguments was that: "Instead of food, I've bin drinkin' water. Why, I've done drunk so much water since I married you, my stunkin' thinks I'm takin' in washin'."

The Campbell Hour last Sunday occupied two hours. "Storm," played on the great Westminister organ. It demonstrated the possibilities of a modern organ to execute symphonic music combined with utility features. Those crashes of thunder, rolling and rebooming, from that one instrument, was truly thrilling. We are indebted to Albert Neal for the importation from England of these unique records.

Did you hear Grace Field sing, "Stop and Shop at the Co-op Shop" on Tuesday night over C.F.A.? The program was called Revueville, a new term to us. Old country people, particularly, like this humor. It recalls that tongue-twister, "Which switch, is the switch, Miss, for Ipswich? It's the Ipswich switch which I require." This excellent feature is announced for 10.45 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.
